WHY ITALY
WHY ITALY

ITALY because this country has been the cradle of many European cultures, such as the Etruscans and the Romans, later was the birthplace of the university and of the Renaissance, that began in Tuscany and spread all over Europe. Italy's capital, Rome, was for centuries the center of Western civilization.

ITALY because the climate is highly diverse and can be far from the stereotypical Mediterranean climate depending on the location.

ITALY because of its many famous cities, well known all over the world such as: Rome, Florence, Milan, Turin, Genoa, Venice and Naples with their beautiful landscapes and museums.
The country is easy to reach and requires less expenses to travel, considering the travelers from Asian, American or European continents. There are many low-cost flight companies that have connection to Milan. For European participants there are more than few ways to reach Milan: car, bus or Fast train.

Milan will offer a vast diversity of prices as for the accommodation as for the meals, and this is a great advantage for young scientists and for emerging scholars from low-income countries.

Regarding the city transport is well priced and because of the city proportions one could easy walk from one destination to another if choose so. The participants will have also in their hands an open and free of cost museum. The city is full of historical treasures that are accessible for anyone at any time without stepping a foot into museums.

The participants will not have a communication problems: many Milanese speaks English, German, French, Spanish at least.
Our proposal for the congress dates is the second half of July. The congress venue is available for the following dates: 24-29. (On request we could verify other availabilities)

... AND, IF YOU WOULD LIKE, YOU COULD REMAIN AND VISIT ITALY DURING MONTH OF AUGUST! ...

This period could be ideal to enjoy Italy. Average temperatures are between 25 and 35°C, with very low chances of rain.

The proposed congress venues are provided with air conditioning systems.

Moreover, as the proposed slot is considered during the “low season”, this will have a considerable positive impact on the congress expenditure.

The 1943 bombardments destroyed the interior and the wonderful and original dome and the Germans deprived it of its iron parts. It has been renovated in 1946. In the 50s, the Teatro Dal Verme, already a cinema since 1920, became a place to host musical magazines, later on a cinema again and sometimes it hosted political congresses.

WALKING TOUR

The tour starts at Piazza del Duomo. The majestic Dome construction Santa Maria Nascente in white marble of about 157 m length, 93 m wide and 108 metres height is the third largest Catholic Church in the world. After capturing some of its 14th century gothic details you'll walk to Galleria Vittorio Emanuele II the first iron and glass construction in Italy and its elegant arcade lined with cafes, shops and restaurants. Then you will arrive to Scala Piazza that includes an impressive statue of Leonardo da Vinci.

The last stop is the Sforza Castle (Castello Sforzesco) that was built as fortified palace in the 14th century to provide protection for the Sforza family, noted patrons of Milan. In later years, the Castle fell into disrepair before it was renovated at the beginning of the last century. Today the Castle combines interesting architecture with lovely grounds.
CASTELLO SFORZESCO used to be the seat and the residence of the ruling family of Milan and now houses several of the city’s museums and art collections. The original construction on the site began in the 14th century. In 1450, Francesco Sforza began reconstruction of the castle, and it was further modified by later generations. A number of these rooms originally had elaborate internal decoration - the best known of these being the Sale Asse with surviving ceiling paintings by Leonardo da Vinci.

PINACOTECA of BRERA. This itinerary allows to admire the masterpieces of the Brera Art Gallery, one of the foremost collection of Italian paintings that exposes many works of Raffaello, Tiziano, Caravaggio e Piero della Francesca. The visit ends with a walk in the very near quarter, established in 1300, a lively meeting place for artists and young people.
TOUR IN MILAN

MONUMENTALE MUSEO A CIELO APERTO

The Cimitero Monumentale in Milan, is a very large cemetery, noted for its abundance of highly artistic and often imposing tombs. It was designed by the architect Carlo Maciachini (1818-1899). The story of Civic Aquarium opened its doors in 28 April of 1906. Was considered one of the most regarded edifices which signified Milanese Art-Nuveau. The ground floor dedicated entirely to the public, where occasionally are being hosted various exhibitions. The first floor is dedicated to specialized library on aquatic environment and living organisms. This modern and technologically equipped library is one of the most supplied in Europe.
SHOPPING IN MILAN

Milan is recognised as a world fashion and design capital, with a major global influence in commerce, industry, music, sport, literature, art and media. The Lombard metropolis is especially famous for its fashion houses and shops along Via Monte Napoleone and the Galleria Vittorio Emanuele in the Piazza Duomo reputed to be the world's oldest shopping mall, a wide street connecting Piazza Duomo to Piazza San Babila. In the "Quadrangle of Fashion" district near the city's center of Via Montenapoleone, Via Andrea, Via Gesù, Via Borgospesso, Via della Spiga and Corso Venezia the most important fashion designers offer their luxurious creations.

You can also visit some interesting antique markets selling furniture, objects for the home, old books, jewelry or flea markets, where you can buy everything for bargains. Those markets are crowded but they are worth to see as it is the best way to meet people and know another side of the Italian life.

In 1818 Percy Bysshe Shelley wrote: "This lake exceeds anything I ever beheld in beauty, with the exception of the arbutus islands of Killarney. It is long and narrow, and has the appearance of a mighty river winding among the mountains and the forests".

Lake Como, also known as Lario, is a lake of glacial origin in Lombardy. It has an area of 146 km², making it the third largest lake in Italy. At over 400 m (1320 ft) deep it is one of the deepest lakes in Europe and the bottom of the lake is more than 200 metres (656 ft) below sea-level.

Lake Como has been a popular retreat for aristocrats and wealthy people since Roman times, and a very popular tourist attraction, which boasts many artistic and cultural gems. It is famous for its numerous villas and palaces (such as Villa Olmo, Villa Serbelloni and Villa Carlotta). Lake Como is widely regarded as being one of the most beautiful lakes in Italy.
VERONA & LAKE GARDA (2 DAYS/1 NIGHT)

Verona a city in Veneto, northern Italy, home to approx. 265,000 inhabitants and one of the seven provincial capitals of the region: recently awarded the status of a “World Heritage Site” is love at first sight, and will entice you to come back and explore it thoroughly. For the past two thousand years and more, the city walls enclose a unique and breathtaking range of art-works and monuments: a fascinating cross-roads of historical periods and cultures (both classical and Germanic), a blend of both Nordic and "Mediterranean" influences; the city is at the same time both ancient and modern.

Shaped by the last Ice Age, Lake Garda has always fascinated its visitors, is the biggest and the most typical of all of the pre-alpine lakes. Its particular shade of sky-blue and the varied landscape which surrounds it has made it unforgettable.

The southern section of the lake, embraced by the gentle slopes of the Riviera of Olives, looks decidedly Mediterranean, however, just a few kilometers north where Mountain Baldo rises above it, it completely changes character and turns into a narrow fiord.
The name Turin brings to mind the splendor of the House of Savoy, Italian Unification, majestic churches and baroque palazzos, famous museums, the car industry, and sport. However, a visit to Turin and its surrounding area also means encountering a magnificent crown of mountain ranges and famous ski resorts, a significant part of the Gran Paradise National Park, lakes and hills, and the River Po (worth exploring, whether by boat or cycling along its banks).

The Alpine capital is there to be discovered; its roads, squares, wide tree-lined avenues, the Royal Palace, Valentino Castle, the Egyptian and Cinema Museums, historical cafés, pastry shops and restaurants specializing in Piedmont cooking. Furthermore, we must not forget the lively spirit of this subalpine city, making it one of the European capitals of cinema and modern art. The House of Savoy royal residences (Rivoli, Venaria Reale, Moncalieri, Stupinigi, declared part of the “World Heritage” by UNESCO) is being returned to its former splendor under the rule of the Court of the King of Sardinia and will be a leading attraction during the 150th anniversary celebrations of Italian Unification, proclaimed in Turin in 1861.

Venice 2nd Day - Saint Mark’s Basilica and Gondola Experience

Stop at the picturesque island of Burano, famous not only for its lace but also for its fishermen's houses painted in bright colors'. Then, after a short sail, you could reach Torcello where the cathedral with its magnificent mosaics and the church of Santa Fosca stand there to testify its glorious past.
INPA proposes Milan to host the IUPsyS Congress in 2016, just after the 2015 World EXPO in the same city, adopting as a logo the same attempt of Leonardo to square the circle through the man. We intend such a Congress of the World Psychology in a dialectic relation with the previous exhibition of what the technology is able to offer. Milan is the right city for this bridging, having demonstrated not only to be able to facilitate the technical relation of our bodies with the nature inventing the plastic in 1954, but also to maximize the beauty of the human shapes when dressing them. Psychology and science, still united in the IUPsyS acronym, can update their continuing dialectics in Milan, where high level researchers in both fields can meet and discuss during the proposed Congress. Milan is well connected with elsewhere in the world, Europe and Italy. Those participants who need entry visa will find all the needed support for these procedures in their Embassies and Consulates located in Italy. Our Foreign Affairs Ministry, actively involved in revitalizing our participation in IUPsyS, will of course collaborate to make entry, to our Country, less complicated for the attendants from further parts of the world. In order to guarantee the best Event the Congress will rely on an organizational support of the Organizing Committee and on the support of the Professional Congress Organizer, that will take care of all the organizational, logistical aspects as well as of all the congressional related activity.

We have in Italy 70,000 members of the “Ordine degli Psicologi”, the professional Chamber of Psychologists. Its membership is mandatory, in order to guarantee the users about the minimum requirement of any psychologist. But the Ordine, of course, is not the unique psychological organisation in Italy, nor the unique member of INPA, which also includes AIP, Italian Psychological Association, gathering 850 university teachers; FISSP, Federation of Psychological Scientific Societies, gathering 6000 professionals; AUPI, the Trade Union representing 5,500 employed psychologists.

In Italy, 31 public and private universities offer graduate programs, masters, other training in Psychology, while 35 universities offer undergraduate programs. As a whole, 20,000 students attend our faculties in Psychology.

In Milan, 4 universities have a Faculty of Psychology: Università Statale, Milano Bicocca, Università Cattolica del Sacro Cuore, and Università Vita e Salute San Raffaele.

Milan is the focus of an area of nearly 10 million inhabitants, in the heart of Europe. This is the city of innovation, of fashion, of design, of editing, but it is also one of the capital cities of art and music, as well as an important laboratory experimenting new kinds of socialisation, especially in the fields of health and volunteering. The scientific community here living and working will adequately appreciate an event like the IUPsyS Congress in 2016, and also participate in innovative ways, integrating the World EXPO of the previous year 2015.

THE SCIENCE OF PSYCHOLOGY FOR A SUSTAINABLE DEVELOPMENT

To promote the well-being as well as the balanced and respectful development of the people and their environment is one of the main goals of psychology as a scientific and applied endeavor. The development occurring at the individual, social and cultural level is not devoid from a responsible development of technologies and a far-sighted exploitation of natural resources. To this end, psychological theories and application could be instrumental in enhancing social solidarity, international cooperation, and sustainable development.
